INDIANA, PA., FEB. 1926

NO. 1

Published Quarterly by the Trustees of the State Normal School of Indiana, Pa.
Entered as Second Class Matter at Indiana, Pa.

TO THE ALUMNI:

Pledges for the Jane E. Leonard Memorial Library, in response to the letters of solicitation sent out by representatives of the different classes, have commenced to come in. Mr. M. C. Gordon is Treasurer of the Jane E. Leonard Memorial Library Committee and is anxious to receive a contribution or a pledge from every graduate of Indiana. With a generous response from every alumnus the Memorial Library will be assured.

The Bureau of Buildings, Department of Public Instruction, is preparing a drawing which shows, in scale perspective, the buildings for that Greater Indiana of which you have heard. The concrete service tunnel from the Power House to John Sutton Hall will soon be an accomplished fact. Plans for a gymnasium are on the architect's boards at Harrisburg.

The State Council of Education will, at its March meeting, consider and probably decide upon a form of application to be used by a State Normal School that desires the privilege of granting degrees. This matter moves slowly because it is important that no mistake of any kind be made regarding it.

There are many items of importance that must be carefully considered in any plan for the development of a fifty year old State Normal School into a degree granting institution for teachers. We are assured of, and grateful for, the consideration and support of all alumni in this matter.

Sincerely,

JOHN A. H. KEITH,
Principal.

TRAINING SCHOOL LIBRARY—INTERMEDIATE DEPARTMENT

The northwest room on the second floor of Wilson Hall has an entirely different aspect from that which it wore last September. In place of the seats of an ordinary classroom, one will find tables and chairs. The walls are lined with bookcases and shelves. On these are books of fiction, nature, geography, and history, also reference books for teachers.

The classroom libraries have been assembled into an Intermediate Library. Seventy-five volumes of children's books have been added recently. This has been made possible through the combined efforts of children, parents and teachers. In less than a year the boys and girls have earned over a hundred dollars for books.

A decided addition was made just this last week when Charles R. Toothaker, Curator of the Commercial Museum of Philadelphia, presented the Training School with three cabinets of specimens and pictures.

That this project is a growing one is assured. The children seek this room in every leisure moment. It is a common sight to see every chair occupied and children seated on rugs reading, or gathered in an interested group before the cabinets, book shelves or bulletin boards.

Before June at least fifty more copies of fiction, for the children to enjoy in their leisure hours, will be added.

The books found most popular according to the number of times they have been checked out are:

Understood Betsey—Dorothy Canfield Fisher.

John of the Woods—Brown.

Peter Pan in Kensington Gardens—Barrie.

Water Babies—Kingsley.

Emmy Lou—Martin

He Knew Lincoln—Tarbell.

The Lost Prince—Frances Hodgson Burnett.

The Talking Leaves—Stoddard.

The training teachers of the Intermediate Department, Miss Ayers, Miss Horne and Miss Buchanan deserve great credit for their successful efforts to establish an Intermediate Children's Library.

THE MUSIC DEPARTMENT

The Music Department began the work of the year 1925-26 with the largest enrollment of first year people in its history. Acting Director for the summer, 1925, Miss Mary R. Lowman, had things in excellent shape for a good beginning. There fore, there was no time lost in starting off the regular work of the Department and the activities of the usual Musical Clubs. Early in the year the students were organized in groups according to classes. Miss Virginia Carnahan was elected Chairman of the Senior Group, Miss Harriet Dean, Chairman of the Second Year Group, Miss Helen Donnelly, Chairman of the First Year Group.

The students felt the need for a get-together of some kind in order to become better acquainted and to make those who were new feel at home. Therefore, a children's party was decided upon which took place on the evening of Friday, November 13th. If there is a question in anyone's mind as to whether the students of the Music Department became acquainted or as to whether they had a good time, ask anyone who was there.

It is the policy of the department to maintain at all times the greatest efficiency in the regular classroom activities. However, the necessity for group activity and the development of group musicianship is constantly cared for through the Musical Clubs.

The Lyric Club together with the Men's Chorus of the Normal School and the Men's Chorus of Indiana, prepared and rendered Handel's Messiah. The Director never experienced a more wholesome co-operation than he received from the groups which made this performance possible. Especially would he commend the orchestra for its untiring efforts in the preparation of the work. Following is the program:

The Vesper Choir, numbering sixty of our first and second year girls, has been most faithful in furnishing the special music for the Vesper Services which the institution holds each Sunday evening at 6:15. Though many excellent numbers were rendered during the semester, special attention should be directed to the Christmas Vesper Service, which was most beautiful and fitting for the occasion. No report of the activities of the Music Department would be complete without reference to the Normal School Band. This is under the direction of Mr. E. F. Sullivan. The Band numbers sixty pieces and is at present working hard on a concert to be given in the near future. Mention might be made of programs which are now under preparation for the various clubs but this will be reported later.

The Artists' Series, sponsored by the Music Department, has been most successful this year. The artists brought before the student body this season: Miss Florence Masbeth, November 18; Fraser Gange, December 11; Mme. Wanda Landowska, January 29; with the New York String Quartet to come on February 26.

* * * *

Many points of interest such as student recitals both vocal and instrumental are constantly in the process of preparation. These public appearances are extremely important to the individual as a part of his training for the field of music supervision. Plans for the future will offer to the student body at large many opportunities to hear the work of the department.

Y. W. C. A.

The aim and guiding spirit of the Y. W. C. A. under its present administration, has been "service." Before the close of school last year the list of the new girls for the next term was taken and the names given out to Y. W. C. A. girls, who were to consider themselves the "big sisters" of these new girls, and to evince an interest in them. The girls promptly got in touch with their "little sisters" and letters went back and forth all during the summer months. Many of the girls, after arriving at Indiana, declared their happiness at receiving such letters.

The Y. W. C. A. Cabinet Members did their best to be helpful and of service to others, during the trying first week. Several came back to Indiana on September 13, the day before school opened.

On that first day, the girls with the "armbands of blue" were very much in evidence. They met trains, assisted in registration, conducted girls to their rooms, helped lost girls to find themselves, and, in general, did anything that presented itself for the doing.

We were next in evidence on our first Saturday evening back at Indiana, when we had our "Get Acquainted Party." Games of a "mixing" nature were played, some laughter-evoking "stunts" were presented, and a very worth while and interesting program was given. Each girl, new or old, wore her name and her home town pinned upon her, so everyone knew everyone else.

The next day, girls attended the various churches in delegations or groups, each one being headed by a Y. W. C. A. girl. Thus we helped the new girls to feel more at home in their Sabbath School or church.

The following Wednesday evening, September 16, the Y. W. C. A. opened the year with the first meeting, held in the Chapel. The entire cabinet had a part in this program, and every effort was made to have the new girls feel really welcome in the Association.

During the month of October, the Y. W. C. A. entertained all the girls of the school by means of a series of informal Teas in the Y. W. C. A. Room, thus promoting the "Get Acquainted" idea, and the spirit of true fellowship.

In October, also, came a big event for our cabinet. We were able to send four of our girls to Edinboro State Normal, for the purpose of representing our Association at the Conference of the Western Eaglesmere Division. They came back from this busy and most profitable week-end, brimming with enthusiasm, and ready to take up with renewed vigor, the work here in our own Association. The girls who had the privilege of representing Indiana's Y. W. C. A. were Hilda Furness, Josephine Gorman, Lillian McCreary, and Aileen McClain.

The Cabinet Members are adding to the Eaglesmere Fund, and working toward a new piano, by Eskimo Pie and sandwich sales.

In all our activities, everything that we have done, we have tried to keep in mind our aim; to be of some service in the school.

FOOTBALL ACTIVITIES

The athletic standing has been exceptionally high for the Red and Slate this term. The first game of the football season was with the Altoona Apprentice club and they defeated Indiana 9 to 6. The squad and coach did not lose the fighting spirit as they were all staunch believers in the old saying that a poor start makes a good finish.

After another week of intensive training Coach Ruffner placed a winning team on the field and Edinboro Normal lost 10 to 0. This encouraged the boys and the next week Bloomsburg Normal also bowed to Indiana. At one stage in the game the Bloomsburg eleven put the ball on Indiana's one foot line but the boys had the fight and forced the opponents to forfeit the ball on downs. The final score was 7 to 0. This game was the first of the season to be played away from home and it also marked the opening of athletic relations with the eastern school.

The fourth game of the season was played on the home field and Indiana and Westinghouse Tech battled the entire game without a score.

The fifth game on the schedule was played at Pittsburgh with Carnegie Tech Freshmen, and this was the only game of the season in which the Red and Slate was out-classed. The final score was 40 to 0 in favor of Tech.

The next two games were played on the home field. Kent College held Indiana to a 6 to 6 score in one of the worst down-pours of rain that was encountered during the entire wet season. However the next Saturday with good weather predominating the Loch Haven Normal eleven went down to defeat, the final score was 60 to 0. A record was made when three touchdowns were carried over in 42 seconds of play. Two of the three touchdowns were scored by King and one by Chalmers, Indiana's star fullbacks.

The next and last game of the season was played at Shippensburg with the Cumberland Valley State Normal School and they hold the record of being the Normal school to defeat the Red and Slate in the past three years. The boys played a good game and are to be congratulated because of the "never say die" spirit which they displayed at Shippensburg.

Capt. Mike Sweeney and his entire team was one of the hardest fighting squads that Indiana Normal has offered for some time.

Football was not passe before the call for candidates for basketball was issued.

A large number of the prospective candidates were out at the first call and Coach Ruffner in due time selected a squad and began work in earnest.

Two games were played before the Christmas recess and both resulted in wins for the Red and Slate. The first game was with Blairsville and the second was with Apollo. These games showed up the new material and those who saw the games and the team in action predicted a good season in basketball for Indiana.

The squad returned before school opened in the new year and the team played a three game series one at Ford City, one at New Bethlehem and one at Punxsutawney. The first and second games of this trip resulted in victories for Indiana. The third game at Punxsutawney was the first game in which Normal suffered defeat. The loss to Punxy was evidently due to the hard playing on the two previous nights.

Ford City played a return game here the following week and they were again defeated by the Red and Slate.

Apollo American Legion played a game here which put another notch in Indiana's string of victories. This game was interesting from the start to finish but the soldiers were unable to gain the upper hand.

On the second trip fate seemed to be against the boys and they lost to Bellefonte Academy and Bloomsburg Normal. At Bloomsburg, Indiana was forced to play the last 12 minutes of the game with four men, three being put out on personal fouls.

These two defeats did not dishearten Captain Magill's men but showed the weak points which Coach Ruffner soon ironed out during the next week of practice.

The next two games were thrillers. Shadyside Academy came to Indiana undefeated and did not lack in confidence during the entire game, but Indiana delivered their first defeat in a fast game that ended with a score of 34 to 32.

West Liberty Normal of West Virginia also boasted of eight consecutive victories but they were due to fall and the following Saturday they bowed to Indiana 36 to 29. The Southern Normal defeated many of the crack teams of the south and they put up a good game from whistle to whistle.

The I. S. N. S. Reserves played their first game of the season as a preliminary to the West Liberty game and won from Saltsburg in an extra five minute period. Score 28 to 27.

After graduating at Indiana, Mr. Statler taught school several terms at various places in Pennsylvania, but not being in good health, he decided to go West, locating in the Centennial State in the then rather small town named after Horace Greeley. Mr. Statler took up newspaper work on his arrival in the Western city, later becoming editor of the Greeley "Sun," after which he entered the mercantile business. About 1895 he disposed of his interests and entered the banking business, since that time having been continuously Vice President and Trust Officer of the Union National Bank of Greeley and at the same time serving eight years as Treasurer of Weld County, Colorado, and four years as State Auditor."

The many friends of Maude A. Loucks, class of '80, will learn with sadness of her death which occurred at Scottdale, Pa., Feb. 6, after a short illness of pneumonia. She had been engaged in teaching ever since her graduation. Since 1883, with the exception of two years service in the school of Seattle, Wash., she taught in her home town, for many years as supervisor of the grade schools.

FORMER PRINCIPAL PASSES AWAY

DR. CHARLES W. DEANE

PRINCIPAL AT INDIANA—1891-1893

The following is taken from a Bridgeport, Conn., newspaper received recently by Mr. Gordon: "Dr. Charles W. Deane, for 21 years superintendent of Bridgeport's public school system, died in Orlando, Florida, at the age of 68 years. Flags on all of Bridgeport's schools will be at half-staff today in respect for the former superintendent.

Some weeks ago Dr. and Mrs. Deane started on a motor trip to Florida for Dr. Deane's health, but he was taken ill in North Carolina and was unable to continue to drive his automobile. His daughter, Muriel, a welfare worker in New York, was sent for. When the party finally arrived in Orlando, Dr. Deane was obliged to go to a hospital since pneumonia had developed in addition to his heart ailment. Funeral services were held in the Park Street Congregational Church, Bridgeport, and interment at Amsterdam, New York.

Dr. Deane was superintendent of Bridgeport Schools from 1893 to 1915. He was born in Pennsylvania in 1857, attended State Normal School and was graduated from Allegheny College. He became superintendent of schools at McKeesport, Pa., then going to Sioux City, Iowa. He resigned this position to accept the principalship of the State Normal School, Indiana, Pa., leaving after two years to accept the position at Bridgeport. The former superintendent was a scholarly man, with a splendid command of language and with the ability of clearly and definitely elucidating his ideas, his friends in the Bridgeport system say. He was liked and respected by all who knew him. Many teachers may have thought him difficult to approach because of dignity of manner but those who went to him for suggestions found him invariably friendly and considerate. Those who knew him well, found him genial and most democratic. He was strong in his convictions and most earnest in making plain his beliefs. Besides his wife, Mrs. Etta Deane, three daughters survive, Miss Muriel Deane, of New York; Mrs. Barbara Evans, wife of Professor Austin L. C. Howland, of Oahu College, Honolulu. A delegation of school teachers and principals attended the funeral.

LITERARY:

"PASSING OF THIRD FLOOR BACK"

"The Passing of the Third Floor Back," a play by Jerome K. Jerome was presented in the Chapel on Friday and Saturday, December 4 and 5. It was directed by Miss Edna Lee Sprowls who not only coached the players but planned the unusual stage setting and arranged the lighting effects.

The excellence and worthy quality of the play were made famous professionally by Forbes Robertson, when the play had a run for several years. The Spirit of Righteousness is made manifest through the contact of the Stranger with the many different types of characters in a second rate boarding house. Each person in the play is made to express the Better Self.

Judging by the response and appreciation of the audience, the students want more plays of this caliber.

"FLORIST SHOP"

The "Florist Shop," presented by members of the Literary Society last Monday night, was one of the most delightful entertainments given this year. This unusual play in one act appealed to the tastes of everyone.

This play, coached by Miss Edna Lee Sprowls, reflected not only her skill in choosing characters, but her care in their training.
